FCC Compliance Statement

This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
- Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.

Installation

1. Remove the Rear Panel, to expose the internal SATA connections:

2. Position the hard drive you wish to install such that the SATA connection is facing towards the SATA interface connector provided by the SAT3510U2V front panel:

3. With the hard drive connected to the rear panel, turn the drive over to expose its base. Fasten the hard drive to the front panel rails on both sides, using the screws provided (2):

4. Fasten the front panel (with drive attached) to the body of the enclosure; be cautious that the drive and front panel are properly aligned with the body of the enclosure, to prevent damage to the LEDs.

5. Fasten both sides of the case to lock the hard drive in place:

6. Fasten the rear panel to the drive enclosure on both sides using the screws (2) provided.

7. Once the drive has been secured within the enclosure, connect the DC 12V power adapter to the power adapter port. Connect the remaining end of the power adapter to an available power outlet.
8. Connect the USB A-B cable to the USB B port on the rear panel of the enclosure, then connect the remaining end of the cable to the host computer.
9. With the host computer powered on, power on the drive enclosure using the On/Off switch. The operating system will detect the presence of the added drive, following which you will be able to properly format/partition the installed drive from within the operating system.
